RE: Note from Glenn Carle

Glenn, I understand your frustration about the manuscript. But, because of the numerous deletions we will have on your latest manuscript and the time required for us to once again review your revised text, it will be about the end of this week before I can get the text back to you. Also, I'm sure you also realize that our office has been closed during the "snow days" last week.

With that being said, in addition to other requirements imposed on us, we are doing our best to complete the review of your manuscript. I hope you understand.

Thanks. (b)(3) CIAAct

I am frustrated. I want to finish up our work together. This has gone on too long now. Where is my manuscript?
